The following is an overview of four of our most requested services:

Health Fair Organization

Is your organization putting together a health fair or similar symposium? AIH has the ability to get diverse groups of people and organizations to collaborate with one another to create an event that is memorable, educational, innovative, and entertaining. Our style of project management will make your event the one people remember for years to come.

Grant Writing and Research

Many organizations offer exceptional service to their clients, but lack the resources to expand or often maintain that level of quality. AIH can assist in finding competent grant writers to aid in obtaining hard to identify grant funding for those projects that address the needs of health literacy and health disparities.

Motivational Speaker

Need an engaging, well-respected, and entertaining speaker for your organization's dinner, retreat, or convention? AIH can provide speakers on a range of health education and literacy topics at the venue of your choice.

Health Empowerment Seminars

AIH facilitates health empowerment seminars for small and medium sized groups. These seminars are designed to be patient-focused, interactive presentations that inform while making healthcare topics accessible and understandable.
